

EXCERPT TALK

Raising Psychic
Children & Mindful
Adults

ORIAH HERA MIRZA
“LADY O”

Lady O

This question is from Moanne. I'm going to take the question, but you could also answer to. The question is, any advice for raising psychic sensitive young children? I have an amazing three-year-old lizard who literally reads my mind daily, but any general tips to empower and encourage these beautiful souls? Thank you. Here's what's happening, Moanne, is we're going to see a lot of this, if we haven't already, for the last... Take it back as far as you want to go till current day. You'll notice There's a lot of new generations that keep coming. There's a lot of crystal children and all these wonderful, wonderful beings that are just really advanced.

As you can see on YouTube, there's eight-year-olds doing full piano concertos and completely doing things that we couldn't even dream of when we were kids. But it's happening more and more. More and more psychic kids are coming. I talked to Red Eagle about this one time, and he says this young generation, I guess they're around five, Now, this generation that's coming is very-Gen Alpha? Gen Alpha. They're really highly intuitive, very, very advanced souls. Here's the best thing we can do. Well, obviously, we're teachers to our kids, but we're also students to our kids.

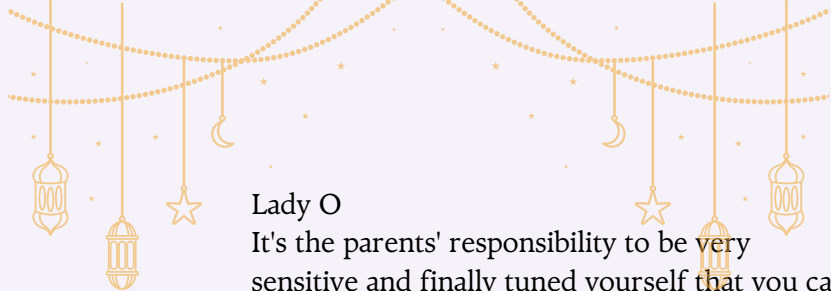

They're here to actually guide us and teach you and elevate you and elevate us. What you do is you allow him to guide you throughout certain periods of time. There's There's times when you have to be a mom and do your parenting that you have to do because he is a kid. But let him tell you and guide you in the sense of where he wants to go next. If he wants to go outside and you have the time and he wants to go outside and he wants to walk under the tree and he wants to look up at the tree and he wants to talk to the tree spirits, then you stand there and ask him; what are they saying?

And he just keeps that dialog going with you, and then he points at something else, and then what's happening What's happening there? And then, Oh, what are you drawing? Oh, what's happening there? Oh, what did you dream last night? Oh, what did that thing say to you? Now, it's a fine line, obviously. You want to keep the psychic abilities open because all children, we're really all born with it, but it just manifestsends differently.

Of course, we want to nurture and keep our children's psychic abilities open. However, this is where it's going to finetune you and you're going to become astute as a parent, is that you have to also know that these children are going to join public school systems or regular school with kids that don't really know what this is. Some of them do, some of them don't, and you don't want them to get bullied. There is a fine line where they're going to start to understand if you gently encourage them to keep these conversations in an environment where they feel like this is their productivity area. This is where they're the most psychically creative is in this space.

This is a nice, safe place where you can explore and expand yourself in the ways that you know how to say that that make them feel secure and happy and comfortable. And this is the place to do it because at school we're focused on other things. At school, we do other things. It's not that we're trying to suppress, but we want to raise well-balanced children that they can still interact with kids at school and not say things that are going to elicit bullying, and then they're in turn going to shut down and then repress their psychic abilities and then get bitter and sad and depressed because they can't be themselves.

Lady O

It's the parents' responsibility to be very sensitive and finally tuned yourself that you can teach your children how to live in these both worlds without suppressing. Just be very gentle. When you're with psychic children, you just be very gentle and allowing. That's the key.

Riz

Did she You know how old her child is?

Lady O

Yes, three-year-old.

Riz

Oh, three? Wow. Well, do you know something? There is that show where even those three-year-olds were remembering their past lives. So it's not What you're saying is it applies to even a three-year-old. So as time goes on and look, I was psychic as a child, and my parents didn't know a lot about that. So I still found my way, even though my parents didn't know. And I don't want you to think that you're going to make some mistakes because being a parent, wouldn't you say, is like we make mistakes, but they're not really mistakes.

They're just you're doing your best. So my parents did not know about this, guys, to make a long story short. And how did I find my way? And a lot of mediums will tell you this, through creative endeavors. I didn't know I was doing it, but I was using my psychic intuition to learn how to play the guitar or the drums or how to draw or paint. I was channeling through these creative outlets and extensions of myself.

And so that's what your child may end up doing. My teacher, Alex Murray, who I will always talk about because I believe that we should always honor our teachers as often as we can, he was a cellist, and his family didn't know about these psychic abilities of his, but it came out through the music.

Riz

In fact, that was his teacher. Yes, his teacher was the cello.

Lady O

That's how psychic kids can integrate that into a public school system if they have to go and they can't be homeschooled, et cetera.